Global Strategic and Defence News (GSDN) started its foray on November 11, 2022 as a forum to provide accurate analysis on geopolitical and defence issues that concern the world at large. The date of 11 November was chosen as it was this day in 1918 that the World War I ended. The end of the World War I is of immense significance to the world as it catapulted the United States of America as a super-power and communism rose in the erstwhile Soviet Union. The world has never been the same again after the World War I as the tectonic changes in geopolitics have regularly shaken the world.

ABOUT US

The era post the World War I also saw USA developing its nuclear weapons and with nine nations currently possessing the nuclear weapons. The world is now on an edge of the immense catastrophe that awaits it, in case a nuclear strike takes place.

Geopolitics has assumed immense significance in these tough and turbulent times and it becomes important and imperative for every person to understand how the geopolitical changes and circumstances are affecting each one of us.

STRATEGIC AFFAIRS

The Rise and Influence of Boko Haram

As the world grapples with the dangers of global terrorism in the form of terrorist organizations like Al Qaeda and Islamic State, one militant group has garnered attention for its brutal and hostile ways in the state of Nigeria. Here, we are talking about Boko Haram, an extremist radical group that has been termed one of the deadliest terrorist organizations by the Global Terrorism Index in the transnational arena.
